No. 1/2

At the meeting held on January 28, 2025, the Board of the International Jeunesses Musicales Competition adopted the following

DECISION

Cancellation of the 53rd International Jeunesses Musicales Competition

Explanation:

The Board of the International Jeunesses Musicales Competition in Belgrade, with deep regret, informs all participants, collaborators, and the audience that, due to unforeseen technical and logistical challenges in organizing and supporting the event, a difficult decision has been made to cancel the 53rd International Jeunesses Musicales Competition in the harp discipline.

Aware of the importance of this competition and its value to young musical talents worldwide, as well as its role in fostering their careers, the Board deeply regrets being compelled to make this decision.

Furthermore, the Board and the organizing team of the International Jeunesses Musicales Competition express their heartfelt gratitude for the initiative and efforts invested in the preparation of this year's competition. We would like to extend special thanks to the selectors, Milena Stanišić and Alexander Boldachev (Switzerland), as well as the jury members: Ljiljana Nestorovska, Jason Chang (China), Catherine Michel (France), Felice Pomeranz (USA), and Dragan S. Jovanović. Additionally, we express our gratitude to our sponsors – the most prestigious harp manufacturers: Camac Harps, Salvi Harps, and Lyon & Healy Harps. With the conviction that the International Jeunesses Musicales Competition will continue its mission of supporting young musicians from our country, as well as from Europe, America, and Asia, by promoting their artistic potential regardless of their religious, national, or social background, we hope to successfully fulfill this mission at the 54th competition in the viola category in 2026.
